and demoralization.

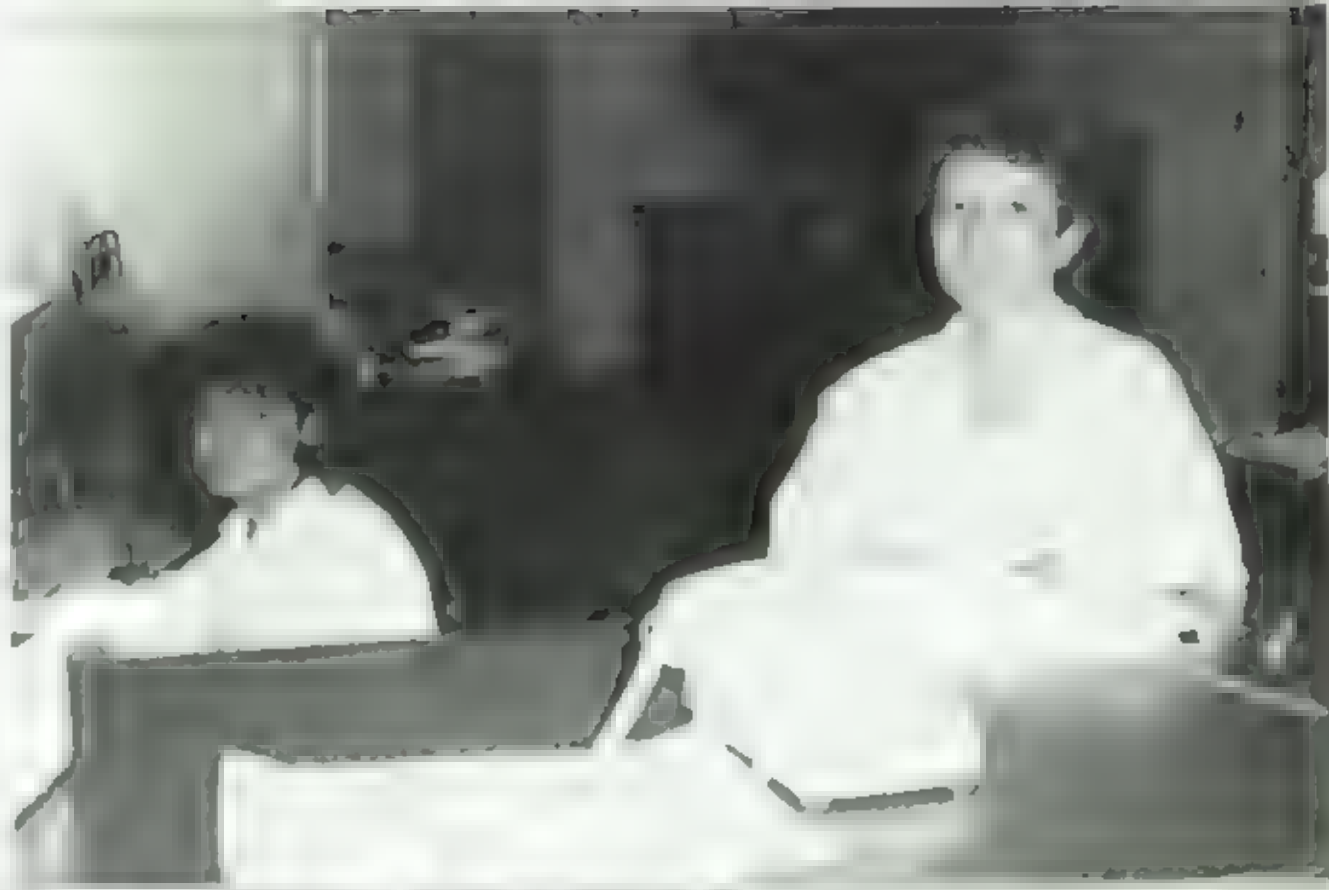

Without Ms "B" the madness of the school day would never clear out. With her calm exterior she lets us know we will get the paper work done sometime soon. At least before they come to take us all away! Lost a form? Don't worry Ms "B" has one you can copy (when the copy machine is working). With her army of fine workers, the Mama Tigers, we when, where and how to get things done on time.

The staff wishes to thank Ms "B", Ms. 'Tootie' and the Mama Tigers for their support throughout the year.

FELLOW CLASSMATES

Graduates-to-be of Nineteen Eighty-seven,
We share memories of friends, living and dead.
Trusting in the belief of a God in Heaven,
We need not fear any challenge ahead

During our exercises on graduation night,
Our class will represent a greater number,
A presence of mind only, without visual sight,
We honor those asunder

For us time is an illusive reality,
To them, an eternal resting place
A tragic loss of a fatality,
We, the living, must face

In remembrance of these departed souls,
Their spirits reign within.
Inspiring us to greater goals,
We and they are all akin

Peggy LeJeune

Change is a universal fact of life, paradoxically, it is a constant in our lives and in the universe that we live in. Daily we experience the change from morning sunrise to evening sunset. Yearly we experience the change from spring to summer to fall to winter. We experience the change from childhood to old age.

Our seniors who leave us this year and our underclassmen who will leave us shortly, have changed during their high school years with us. They have begun to realize that they will be out on their own shortly making their own way of life. They will change from dependence to independence, breaking away from their childhood.

We hope that you, our seniors and all you, our underclassmen will face this challenge of change in your life and have the courage to carry through as you meet the daily demands in your preparation for an adult life.

A Final Note

A FINAL NOTE

A chalice of good wine,
A toast to fine times,
A matter for friends, intertwined,
A love for friends chime.
That is how it transpired,
this final day of congratulations.
Now, we are all tired,
on this day of graduation.
The future is a void,
the past only reflections.
Not one can truly avoid,
these present moments of affection.
In order not to cry,
we dared not to talk.
If anyone did try,
no one heard the remark.

Peggy LeJeune

IN MEMORY OF NICOLE

No one promised
A pasture full of green
No one promised
Love to always be seen
No one promised
The sky always blue
No one promised
Our dreams to come true
No one promised
Our hopes to succeed
No one promised
Our hearts to never bleed
No one promised
The flowers to fully grow
No one promised
Our love to always show
But who promised
To willingly love me
Nicole did
And that I will forever see!

NICOLE MARIE THERIOT
JULY 9, 1969
JANUARY 16, 1987

In Memory of Nicole Theriot
Why did you have to die our dear friend?
Your life was so young to come to an end.
Your one smile we'll no longer see,
We took it for granted with us, you'd always be.
Our class won't be the same without you
there,
We hope you knew how much we cared.
Remember, Nicole, Class of '87 you'll always be a part,
For we'll always carry you in our hearts

QUIZ BOWL

Our Quiz Bowl Team finished the year with a rather disappointing 2-4 win loss record. This, however, is not as bad as it may sound. All of the teams that defeated them went on to compete in the playoffs. Three of those teams were rated as one of the top six teams in the tournament. One of those teams was undefeated. All of their defeats were very close matches. When they did win, they slaughtered the other team. They were well respected for their abilities. Our Quiz Bowl Team's average per game was 335 points which is considerably larger than several playoff teams. One of our players, Terry Blanchard, did extremely well. He went on to be a member of the Canon Quiz Bowl 100 Point Club. The Quiz Bowl Team would like to express its extreme gratitude to Ms. Hobbs and Mr. Boyd, our sponsor, who donated much of their spare time after school and sometimes on weekends for the benefit of our Quiz Bowl Team.

SENIOR INFORMATION — CLASS '87

FLOWER: YELLOW ROSE

CLASS SONG: SAIL AWAY

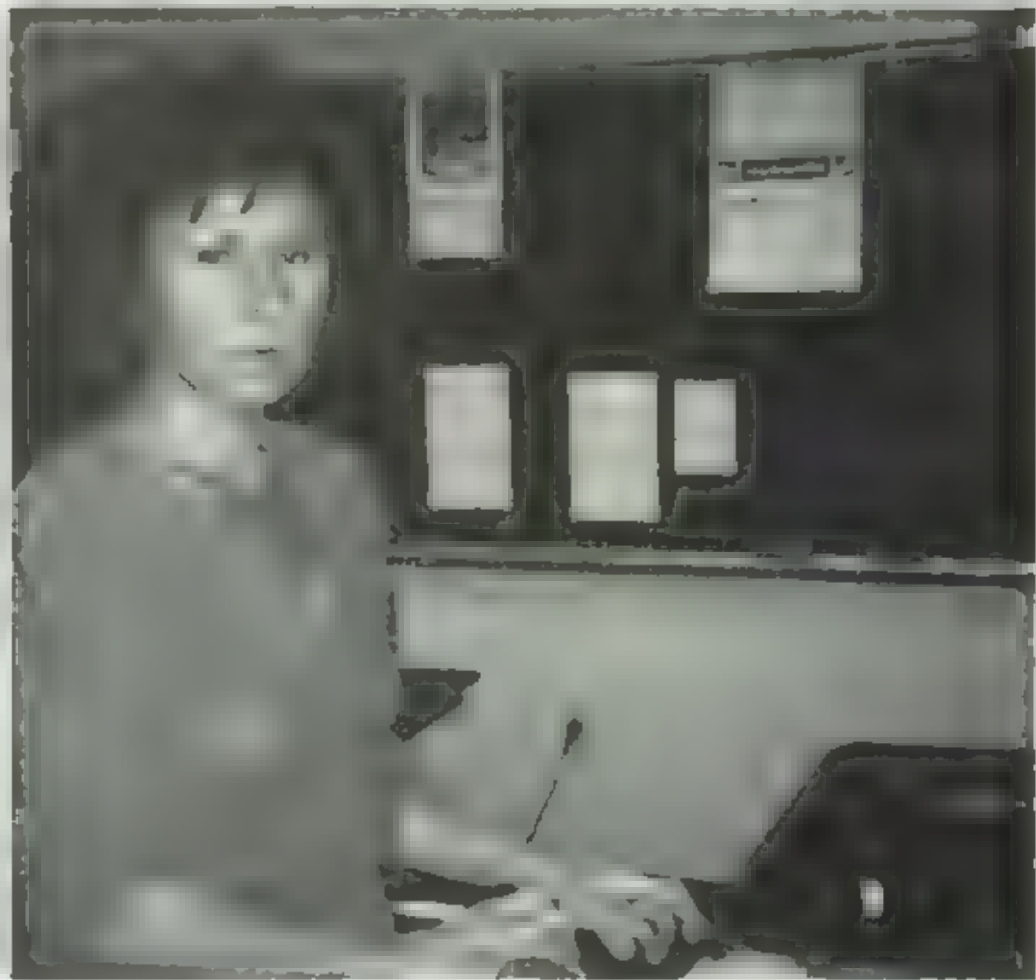

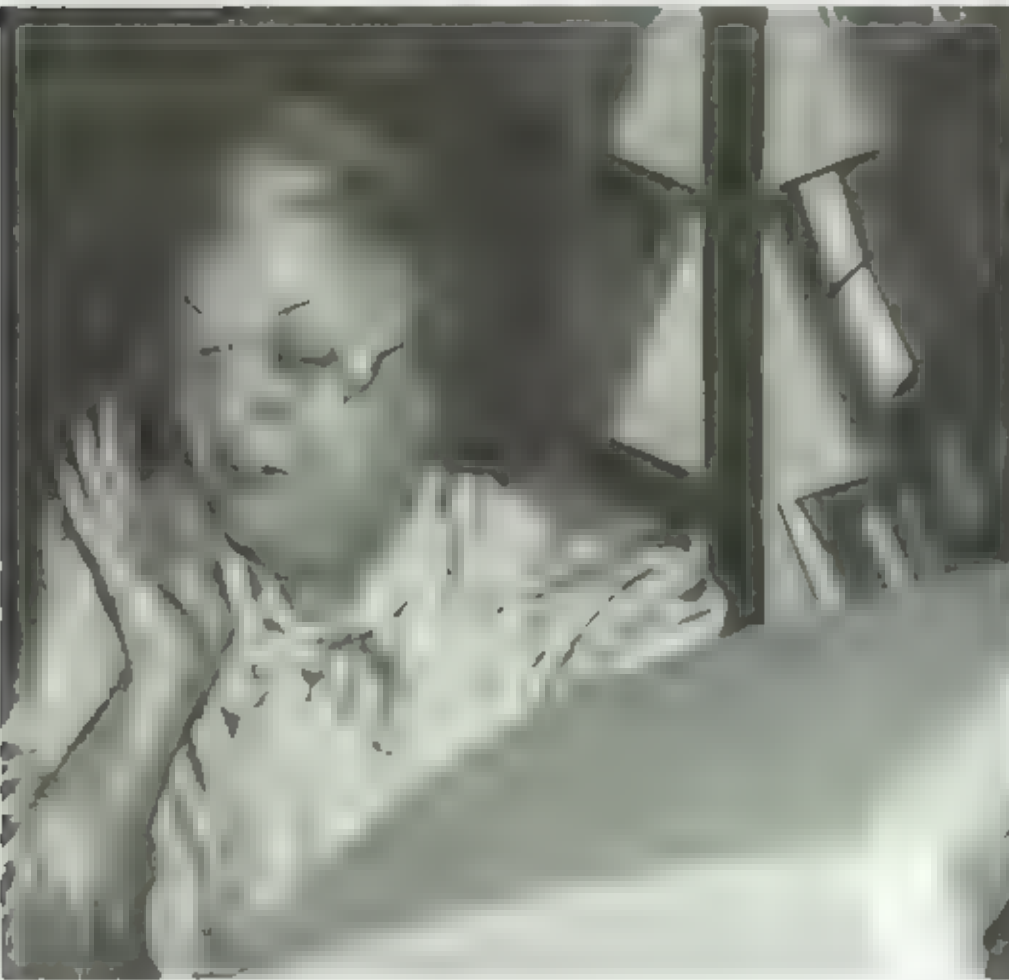

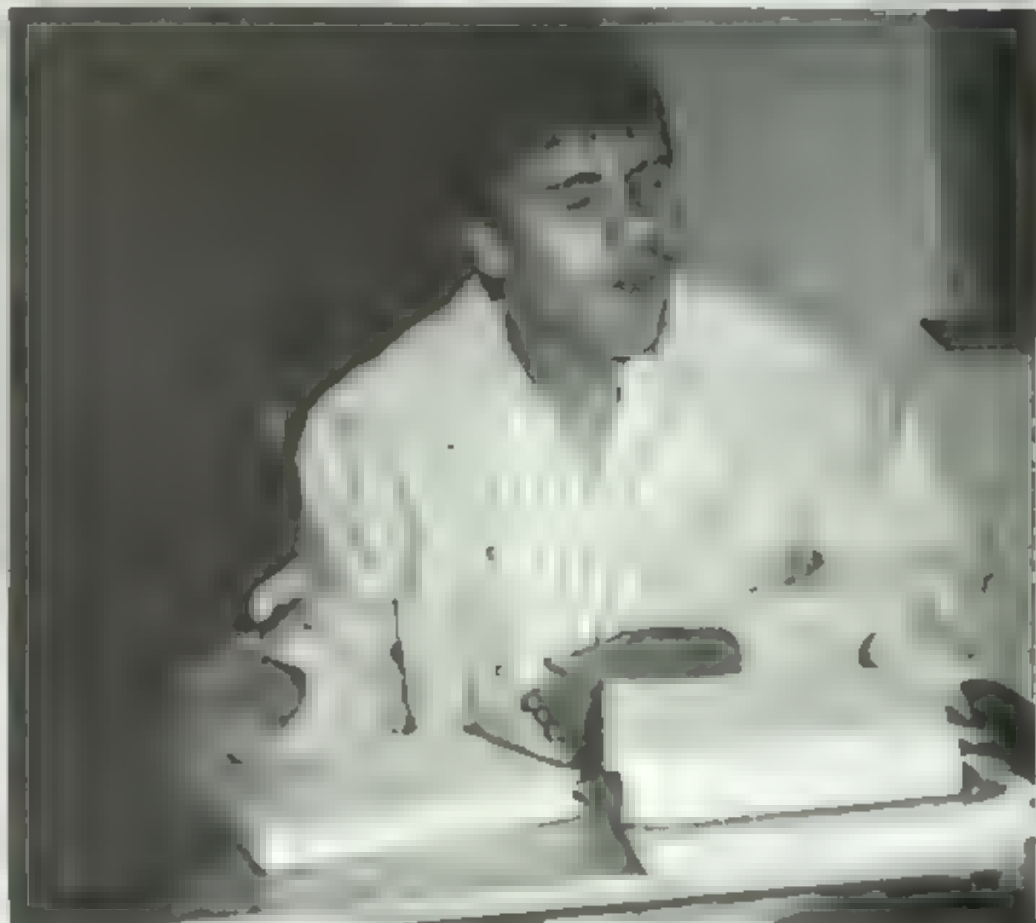

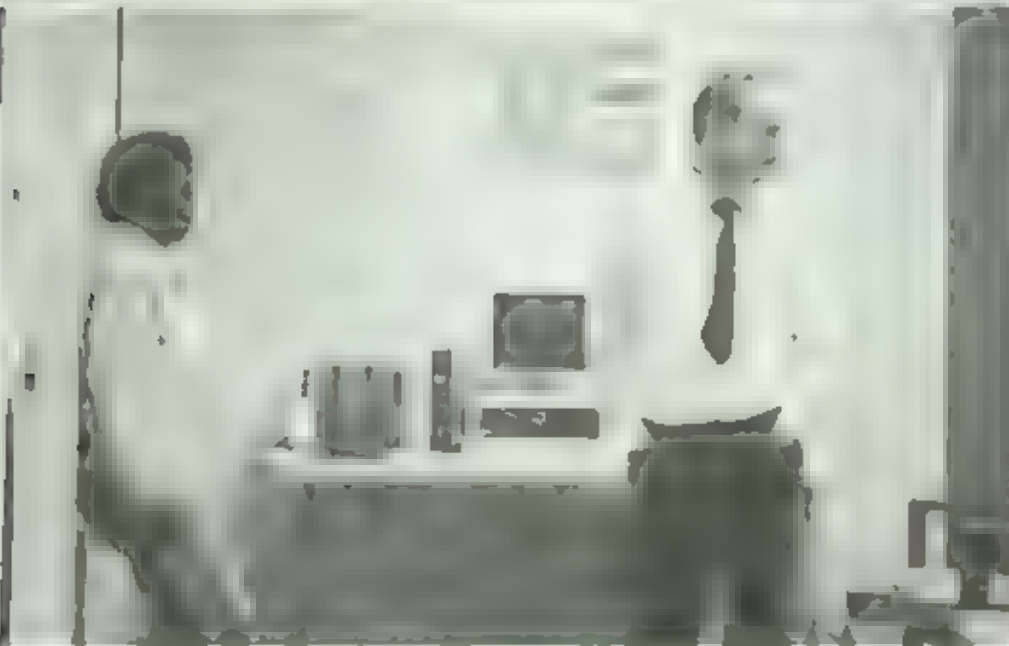

CLASS COLORS: PURPLE AND GOLD

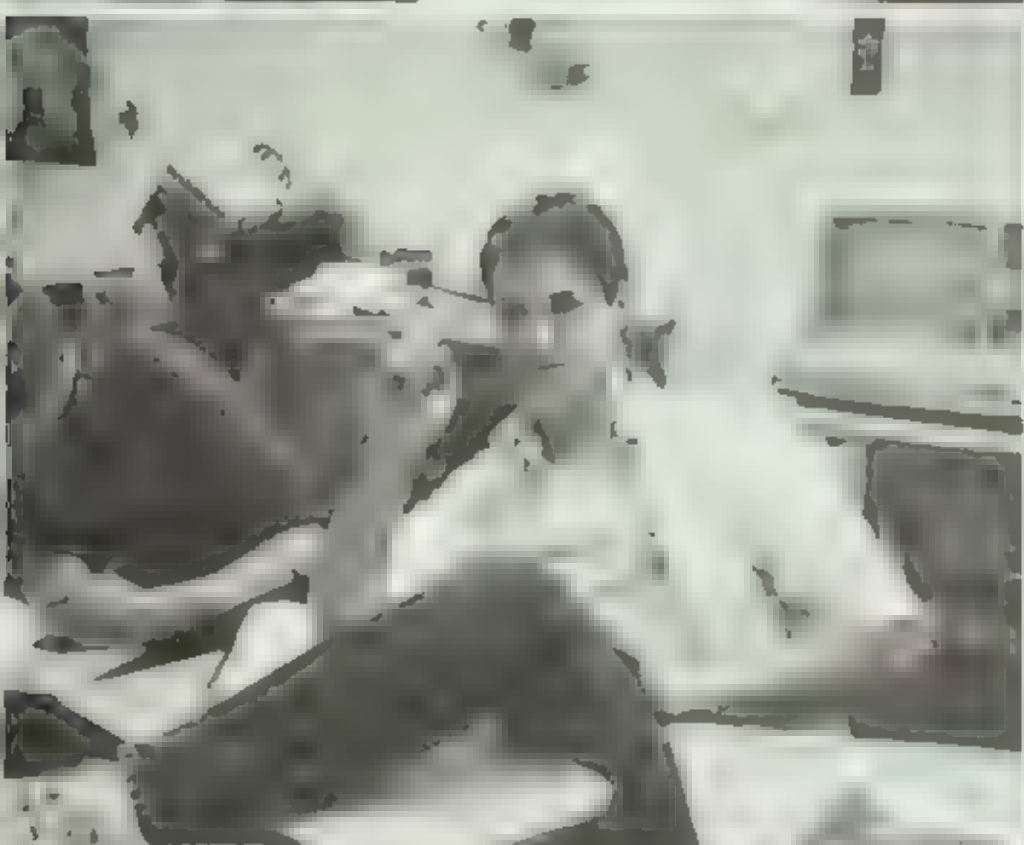

A FINAL NOTE

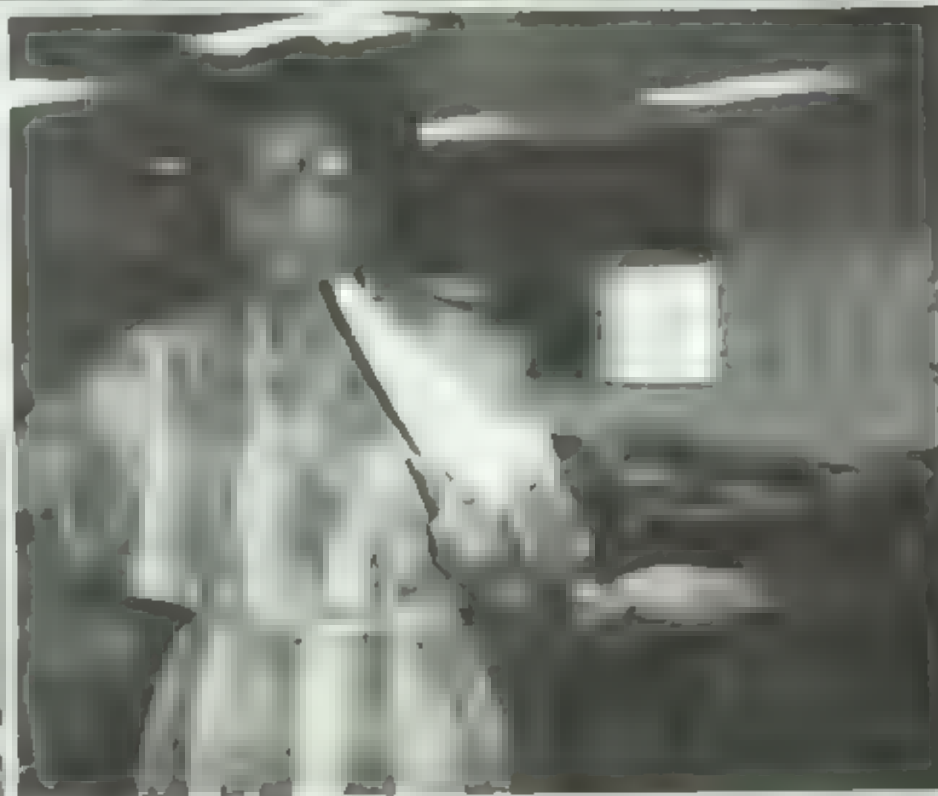

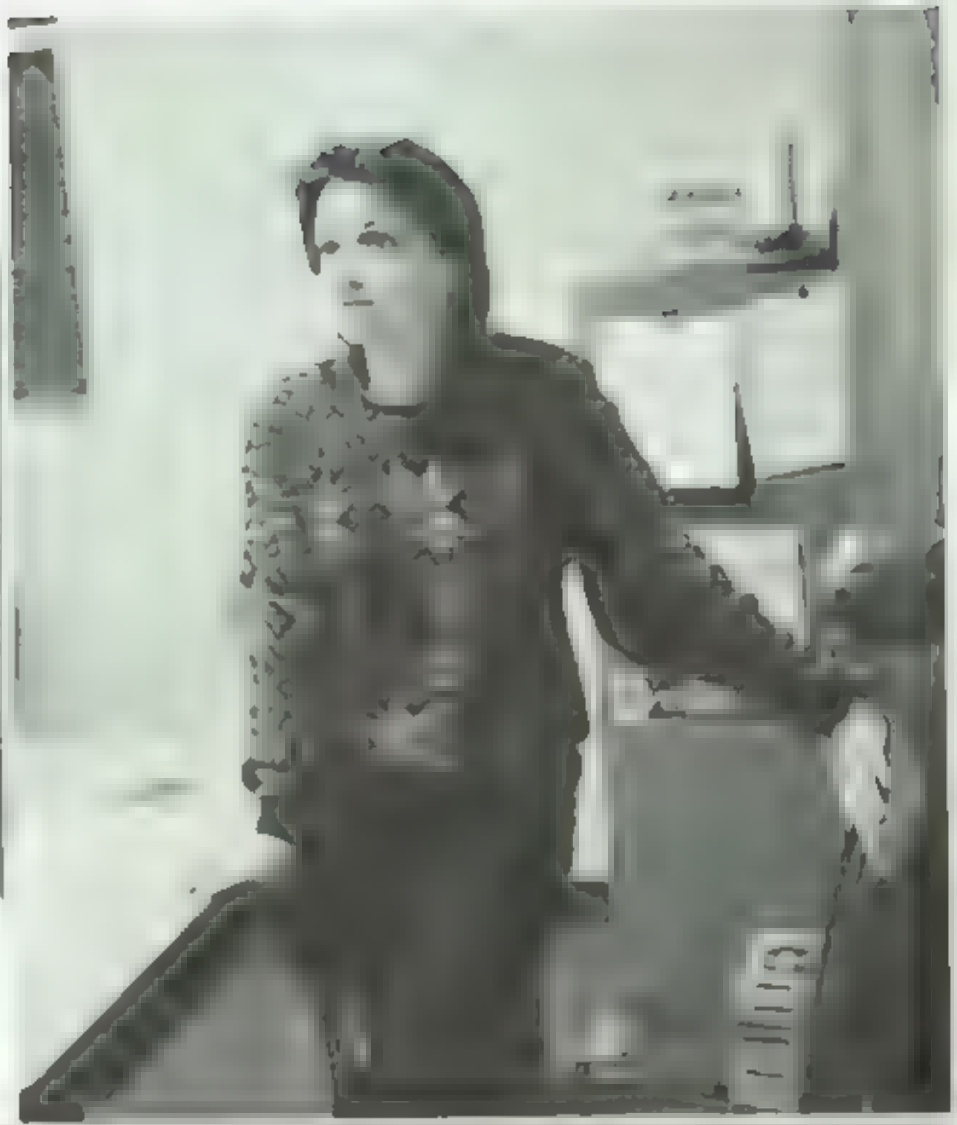

A chalice of good wine,
A toast to fine times,
A matter for friends, intertwined,
A love for friends chime.
That is how it transpired,
This final day of congratulations.
Now, we are all tired,
On this day of graduation.
The future is a void,
The past only reflections.
Not one can truly avoid,
These present moments of affection.
In order not to cry,
We dared not to talk,
If anyone did try,
No one heard the remark.

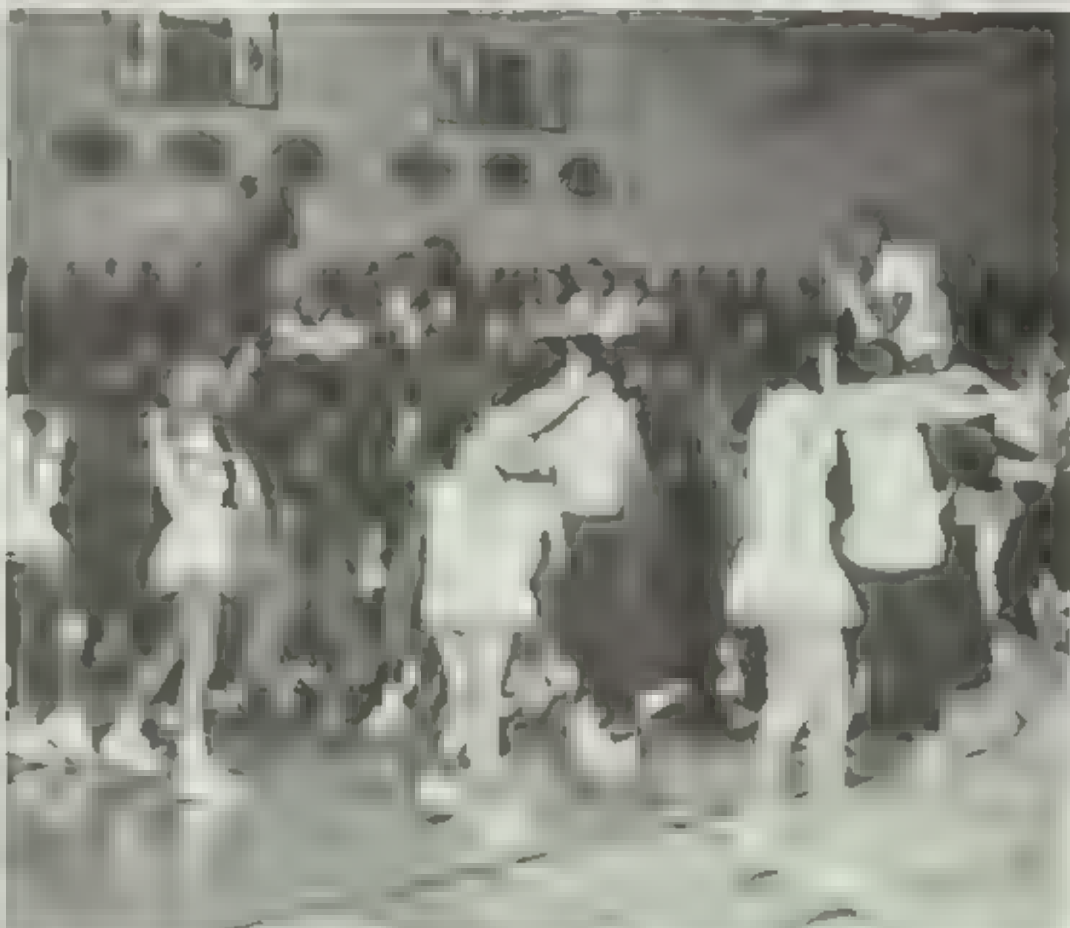

Peggy LeJeune
